Bohlsener Mühle in the Lüneburger Heide is a family-run company that has been producing exclusively 100% organic products since 1979. Using regional grain – mostly sourced from within a 200 km radius – the company's own mill and bakery produce flour, flakes, bread, biscuits and more. As an organic pioneer, Bohlsener Mühle combines traditional craftsmanship with modern technology and is consistently committed to sustainability, regionality and transparent value creation.
